Sin in the Camp!

February has been one of the longest months of this short-lived year. The longest month of this work since inception. There have been many tears among the brethren and many contrite hearts standing broken before the congregation. Confessions of fault and requests for forgiveness before a small but resilient congregation.

In every case, it has been falling to the sin of sexual immorality. We noted this as a weakness in the young adults in the congregation. The idea of dating relationships where holiness abounds was foreign and there is MUCH work to do.

The best news in this is that:

1. They are willing to change and have taken active measures such as preparing agreements to not be alone with individuals of the opposite sex, avoid ungodly environments and be truthful at all times.
2. Everyone affected and involved has publicly and privately repented.
3. The congregation has practiced forgiveness and church discipline.

We have also been blessed to have a member of the Lord's church who is also a professional counsellor take on weekly calls with several of the young adults to assist in their recovery.

TREVOR and I met and we are studying.

He came to a mid-week Bible class and reiterates often that there are so many people who don't know so much!

Please keep praying for Trevor's heart as he seeks truth. We are hopeful that he will submit to the Gospel.

COLD CALL I came across two young women who after small talk started participated in a conversation about Scripture. They agreed to read Muscle and a Shovel. One of the two read 20 chapters in one weekend and is overflowing with thoughts. Shameika will take on in-person studies with this young lady and we hope much good will result! The harvest is truly plentiful!

Hurricane Relief Effort Update

The last week of February was our first break from the community work for the year and it was replaced with a song practice. We were blessed to have a scout-team from the North MacArthur congregation in Oklahoma City who came to check on the work and determine whether there is a need to bring a group.

There is ALWAYS a need to bring a group!!!

One of the two men is a Song Leader and since nobody in the congregation can read music, we were thankful to learn how to sing a few songs as they should be sung. We were able to show these brethren some of the damages of the storm and they were able to fellowship with the church. We look forward to them coming back with many hands to aid in the work next year.

PRAYER REQUESTS

Please pray that:

- The upcoming studies will meet good hearts.
- More hearts will give the Word a chance as we serve the victims of Hurricane Dorian.
- The church will grow in holiness and in numbers.

Thank you for supporting this work.

That men may glorify our Father in heaven (Matt 5:16)
